This is amazing work, Lucas
I can imagine myself being there now!

One Saturday morning Lucas and his dad went to the fish mongers. There was an old, friendly man with a long white beard. By chance he started talking to Lucas' dad. Lucas heard that the man had been a pirate in the olden days, and he started to talk about his adventures. He said "I saw this creepy, deadly and frightening island behind the iceberg that sank the Titanic." Lucas started thinking "I would love to do an expedition to that island!" On Sunday afternoon he went to a party and he told his friends about the old man and what he said. Some of his friends became very excited. They shouted "can we go to that island, PLEASE!" And then Lucas said "if you want to, you can go with me." Some said "we better stay here." A terrific team of friends came together. They were Lucas, Andrew, Luca, Milo and Jakub. Lucas said "I can get the boat which is in my shed." Lucas went to get the boat, a new engine and some petrol. Andrew went to get food for the expedition. Luca got his dinosaur books in case there were ancient reptiles on the island. Milo went to get his four wheel drive car. Jakub got enough water and cups for the trip.

To celebrate the journey and to say good-bye to their colleagues, the friends organised one of the BIGGEST, FUNNIEST and BEST parties ever.

The day after they began their trip.

They packed their things, put the boat on a trailer and drove by car to the Albert's Dock in Liverpool.

They put the boat on a ramp until it was afloat.

It took them three days until Milo shouted "WE ARE NEARLY THERE!" because he could see the island in the distance, after they had passed on iceberg. But when they nearly reached the shore a huge, monstrous and mighty sea monster with green, blue and black scales, with teeth full of blood and shiny yellow eyes rose from the deep, black, dangerous sea. Everyone got paralysed because the sea monster tried to capsize the boat. They shouted "ANDREW! DRIVE QUICKLY, QUICK, QUICK, QUICK!" So Andrew drove as fast as he could. They succeeded to get away. When they reached the sandy beach they saw large foot prints in the sand. Milo said "They don't look like human foot prints,"

So Lucas and Luca went there and inspected them. "You are right.

They might be animal foot prints.

That one might be from a big bird, that one from a dragon, dinosaur or monster."

Then Andrew unloaded the four-wheel drive car from the boat and said "Let's follow the foot prints." So they drove until huge, brown, stinky swamps blocked their way.

The swamps were noisy because loads of bubbles were popping and splashing on the surface. They looked around and spotted some big trees. Milo said

"I know what to do." He ran to the car and grabbed 5 saws. The friends cut 5 trees and built a bridge across the swamp. When they just went on the bridge with the car, a lump of mud popped out of the swamp and grew higher and higher. They shouted "Look, the mud has an eye & It is a mud monster &". The monster ^{lifted them} high up and they all were very frightened. Luca shouted "Press the yellow buttons". Andrew bashed the button and a huge spring appeared below the car that zoomed the car out of the mud monster's hands. They landed in a big hole in a weird looking plant. The hole had a row of sharp spikes at the top and at the bottom too. They noticed that the hole was closing, and Lucas shouted "Watch out, this hole is a mouth!" Jakub looked at the buttons and shouted "Quick! Press the orange button!" Some pipes came out from the back of the car. The pipes exploded, fire came out and the car zoomed out of the carnivorous plant's mouth. Suddenly, a humongous sea eagle grabbed the car before they could land. It flew towards its nest on top of the biggest cave they had ever seen. The eagle dropped the car in the nest and held it down. Milo whispered "We need to get out before the eagle catches us. Let's creep out of the car quietly and climb down this mountain. They went out and climbed down. But when they got to the ground, they saw some green figures, some of them had one eye and some had little lamps on their heads. Luckily, they found a path to avoid them, so they carried on. They faced many more adventures, the evil river, the loath pond, carnivorous flowers, tree monsters and a huge group of wild animals, but they found clever tricks and solutions. Finally, they arrived at the other end of the island. They saw a dot at the horizon which grew bigger, bigger and bigger. It was their boat! Someone stepped out of the boat. He had big eyes, a very smily face, sharp teeth for eating leaves, red and yellow skin, and some smooth spikes on his back. The friends asked him "Who are you?" He replied "I am Bobo." He told them "Do you know that this island was under a spell of an evil wizzard? You took it off by getting up to here." They all looked at each other puzzled.

Then Bobo said "look at the evil wizzard!" They all looked around and saw the terribly angry wizzard. Bobo pointed at him. "you are going to die!" And the wizzard flew up in the air and turned into a cloud. Bobo told them. "Come with me to sit on top of my cave and watch Death Island turn back into Rock Island." They saw the tree monsters into trees, the sea eagles into sea gulls, and ~~and~~ all the sand slipped into the sea and the monsters, dinosaurs and mud swamps carried with it. After this fantastic, humengous and magic transfor mation the friends said good-bye to Bobo and they sailed back to Manchester.

Dear friends!

I would like to invite you to this party. As you all know, me and a few of my friends are going on a trip to an unknown island. Therefore, I would like to say good bye to my dearest friends. We are going to have a MONSTER CAKE, lots of MUSIC, CHOCOLATES, a PINATA, GLOW STICKS and lots and lots of FUN! For example, we will build card-board monsters and dinosaurs. We will have a big cushion fight. We will play hide and seek too. We will have fun with the Wii.

The party will be next Saturday at 10 pm and you can ~~play~~ all stay for a sleep-over. It will be at Braslan Hy. Play Area. Please can you come to my party.

☺ "Yes please Lucas. I would love to come to the party. Can I bring Betsy?"
