

Supplementary Figure 1. Markers geometry in three patients. In a) and b), the markers were in a collinear geometry resulting in high uncertainty of the yaw angle. In c), the markers were less collinear resulting in a lower rotation uncertainty. The numbers indicate the smallest angle in the triangle and the standard deviation of the yaw angle when a marker is shifted 0.5mm.

