

Figure S2. Gene expression difference between paired and unpaired of the identified hits.

The median gene expression difference between paired and unpaired trained flies are plotted for the four time intervals (T1-T4). Positive values represent higher gene expression in the paired trained group than in the unpaired trained group. Asterisks denote a significant median gene expression difference between paired and