

Figure S2. Prediction of LH or HL detection power from LL and HH detection powers. In general, the power of detection of QTL with a single allele residing on a homologue of high GIC (LH, HL) is approximately mid-way between the detection powers of either LL-type or HH-type QTL.