Note: When I was preparing for the dedication of the Anne Moody Memorial Highway in February, I contacted Anne Moody's family members to invite them to the ceremony, which was held on Feb. 20, 2019. When I spoke with Anne's sister, Adline, she asked me to also invite the Rev. Dr. Ed King, former chaplain at Tougaloo College. "He was with her from the beginning," she said. Well, I sent an email to King, and soon after that, I received his reply. Unfortunately, he was not able to attend the historic event. His note is presented below. His personal information has been omitted. -- Dr. Roscoe Barnes III

Hello Dr. Barnes,

Congratulations on the wonderful work you are doing with the prisoners and others about remembering my friend Anne Moody. It is great that a section of the highway will be named for her. I'm sorry I can't come down from Jackson for the program. I don't do much driving at age 82.

I did forward your material to several persons.

Thanks again for keeping me informed.

Rev. Dr. Ed King
