

Iron Age/Celtic re-enactment groups: This information is derived from a search on the Internet using Google in May 2015 and July 2017 and was updated in March 2020. It has focused on groups of re-enactors rather than attempting to list the many individuals and groups who undertake living-history activities focusing on the Iron Age. Most of these groups no longer appear to be active and the groups that are thought to remain active are highlighted in bold below.

Name	Region (if any)	Notes	reference
Brigantia Iron Age Celtic re-enactment	Portsmouth, Hampshire	Founded 1990, not a big group but has done shows with 40 fighters. The website is not active in March 2020 and there is no indication on the Internet that this group is still functioning.	Brigantia 2017
Cantiaci, Iron Age Living History Group	Gillingham, Kent	Active in the late 1990s and early 2000s but the website has not apparently been updated since 2002.	Cantiaci 2002
Damnonii 1 st . century Celtic Re-enactment Society	Erskine, Renfrewshire	Founded 1996; sister group to vii Augusta, although this groups seems to have been disbanded and the website is no longer available in 2017.	Damnoni 2017
Dumnonika Iron Age British (Celtic) Re-enactment Group	Based in the SW	Founded in 2011 and based in the south-west of Britain. The name means 'of he Dumnoni'. The website was no longer available in 2017.	Dumnonika 2017
Prytani	Based in North Wales	Performed a ceremony at St Flagan's open-air museum in 1991 to bless the 'Celtic Village'. There was no indication in 2015 that this group are still active.	Rhys 2008, 238
The Silures	Based in Wales	A reenactment group that was active during the 1990s and portrayed 'the fierce tribes of South Wales who successfully resisted the Roman invaders'. This group appears no longer to exist in terms of any information on the Internet and may have closed some time ago (before 2017).	Megalithic Porthole 2017

Swords of Dalriada, Scottish Historical Re-enactment group	Based in Ayrshire	Focusing on the Scottish wars of independence, the Viking invasions, Iron Age Caledonia and the Jacobite rebellion	Swords of Dalriada 2020
Vicus, Romans and Britons		A group that portrays the Roman invasion of Britain, from AD 43 to 84, including the Roman military and Iron Age communities	The Vicus 2020
Yr Hyddgen, Torfaen Community Theatre Group	Torfaen, Monmouthshire, Wales	A recently formed living history group that promotes Welsh culture, culture and living history and that creates re-enactment of Iron Age life in south Wales. The website was being rebuilt in March 2020.	Yr Hyddgen 2018