

SENTENTIAL COMPLEMENT SENTENCES

Supplemental Material: Experimental Sentence Imitation Task

Matrix clause type	Presentation	Sentence imitated
Formulaic	The mom and her son go to the pet store. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the fish doing?"	I guess the fast fish shared the cookie.
True	The mom and her son go walk on the street. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the mouse doing?"	He guesses the dirty mouse climbed the cheese.
True	The mom and her son go walk to the lake. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the turtle doing?"	He guessed the thirsty turtle touches the water.
True	The mom and her son go to the farm. The son asks about what they see. The son asks, "What is the chicken doing?"	She will guess the tired chicken dropped the corn.
Formulaic	The mom and her son go to the park. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the dog doing?"	I think the happy dog touched the ball.
True	The mom and her son go to the forest. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the bug doing?"	He thinks the sticky bug bites the apple.
True	The mom and her son go to the zoo. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the tiger doing?"	He thought the big tiger carries the ball.
True	The mom and her son go to the forest. The son asks about what they see. The son asks, "What is the bear doing?"	She will think the sad bear shared the food.
Formulaic	The mom and her son go to the farm. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the pig doing?"	I know the loud pig touches the corn.
True	The mom and her son go to the pet store. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the cat doing?"	He knows the pretty cat climbed the chair.

SENTENTIAL COMPLEMENT SENTENCES

True	The mom and her son go to the pet shop. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the bunny doing?"	He knew the hungry bunny finds the bowl.
True	The mom and her son go to the garden. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the butterfly doing?"	He will know the little butterfly smelled the flower.
Formulaic	The mom and her son go to the lake. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the fish doing?"	I bet the little fish eats the cookie.
True	The mom and her son go to the pet store. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the cat doing?"	He bets the sleepy cat drinks the milk.
True	The mom and her son go to the farm. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the cow doing?"	He bet the pretty cow pulled the balloon.
True	The mom and her son go to the lake. The son asks about what they see. The son asks, "What is the bear doing?"	She will bet the bad bear finds the food.
Formulaic	The mom and her son go to the lake. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the turtle doing?"	I know the wet turtle finds the apple.
Formulaic	The mom and her son go walk by the street. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the dog doing?"	I remember the careful dog stopped the car.
True	The mom and her son go to the park. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the squirrel doing?"	He remembers the little squirrel drops the food.
True	The mom and her son go to the farm. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the pig doing?"	He remembered the bad pig knocked the bucket.
True	The mom and her son go to the backyard. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the butterfly doing?"	She will remember the little butterfly touches the book.

SENTENTIAL COMPLEMENT SENTENCES

Formulaic	The mom and her son go help feed animals. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the cow doing?"	I guess the sick cow takes the medicine.
Formulaic	The mom and her son go outside. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the bird doing?"	I think the loud bird sings a song.
Formulaic	The mom and her son go to the park. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the dog doing?"	I bet the fast dog pushed the ball.
Formulaic	The mom and her son go back home. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the dog doing?"	I remember the tired dog gets the bed.
Formulaic	The mom and her son go to the yard. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the bunny doing?"	I guess the soft bunny bites the carrot.
Formulaic	The mom and her son go to the zoo. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the lion doing?"	I think the loud lion eats the meat.
True	The mom and her son go in the lake. The son asks about what they see. The son asks, "What is the frog doing?"	She bets the happy frog stopped the bug.
Formulaic	The mom and her son go home. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the cat doing?"	I think the little cat spilled the milk.
True	The mom and her son go to the farm store. The son asks about what they see. The son asks, "What is the horse doing?"	She thinks the bad horse kicked the truck.
Formulaic	The mom and her son walk by the farm. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the pig doing?"	I bet the sticky pig kicks the toy.
True	The mom and her son go for walk. The son asks about what they see. The son asks, "What is the owl doing?"	She remembers the tired owl watches the tree.

SENTENTIAL COMPLEMENT SENTENCES

True	The mom and her son go in the park. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the dog doing?"	She remembered the loud dog spilled the water.
Formulaic	The mom and her son go to the zoo. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the lion doing?"	I remember the hungry lion takes the meat.
True	The mom and her son go to the park. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the duck doing?"	He will guess the careful duck watched the egg.
True	The mom and her son go to the lake. The son asks about what they see. The son asks, "What is the frog doing?"	She guessed the wet frog catches the bug.
True	The mom and her son go to the farm. The son asks about what they see. The son asks, "What is the pig doing?"	She thought the scared pig hits the bowl.
True	The mom and her son go to the park. The son asks about what they see. The son asks, "What is the squirrel doing?"	She guesses the little squirrel carried the candy.
True	The mom and her son walk the farm. The son asks about what they see. The son asks, "What is the cow doing?"	She will remember the tired cow touched the egg.
Formulaic	The mom and her son walk by the fair. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the duck doing?"	I know the big duck watches the balloon.
Formulaic	The mom and her son go to the pet store. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the fish doing?"	I remember the pretty fish watched the camera.
True	The mom and her son go in the backyard. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the mouse doing?"	She knew the fast mouse gets the egg.
True	The mom and her son go to the farm. The son asks about what they see. The son asks, "What is the cow doing?"	She knows the dirty cow touched the trash.

SENTENTIAL COMPLEMENT SENTENCES

True	The mom and her son walk by the water. The son asks about what they see. The son asks, "What is the dog doing?"	She will know the sick dog spilled the medicine.
True	The mom and her son walk by the pet store. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the mouse doing?"	He will bet the sick mouse gets the drink.
True	The mom and her son go to the park. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the owl doing?"	He will think the sleepy owl watched the bug.
Formulaic	The mom and her son go to the farm. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the horse doing?"	I bet the happy horse kissed the cow.
Formulaic	The mom and her son go in the park. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the dog doing?"	I know the little dog spilled the bucket.
Formulaic	The mom and her son walk go to the park. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the butterfly doing?"	I guess the pretty butterfly touched the stick.
True	The mom and her son go for walk. The mom asks about what they see. The mom asks, "What is the bird doing?"	She bets the little bird finds the tree.

---